From Fairfax, VA: Congratulations on a wonderful book! I just finished reading your book and I loved it. If history books could be written in such an interesting way, more kids would be excited by history in school.

From Houston, Texas: Damn book...having a tough time putting it down. Will keep reading, for your work is superior, well researched and well written.

From Placerville, California: It is excellent and it was a pleasure to praise it for Amazon. With all the intense work you must have done over quite a time period, your writing is never labored nor distant, just exciting and informative.

From Munich, Germany: Congratulations! You give a valuable insight into the cultural, historical and economical background. Several details I had not known myself and am convinced that for Americans your book constitutes a revelation. Next my wife is going to read it and I have already recommended it to friends in Germany and in Greece.

From Passau, Germany: Your book arrived. It is excellent.

From Australia: The book is a wonderful resource ... I have already recommended it to two friends.

From Nova Scotia, Canada: Keep signing those books. For a book that could be “dry” reading, it is not. Really enjoyed. I get tired when I think of the work you did to make this book possible.

From Cape Cod, Mass: I’m truly enjoying every word.

From Burlington, KY: I thoroughly enjoyed your book, I read some chapters twice. It really gave me a history lesson. I had no idea of the hardships and laws they had to live by, especially the marriage restrictions.

From The Villages, Florida: Wow, I’m impressed! Not only interesting from a historical standpoint, but you are a great writer.
